FINANCE CORNER-YOUR RSA STATEMENT

READ YOUR PENSION STORY

Your RSA Is More Than A Number...

Your pension statement of account is beyond a collection of figures. It is a record of your journey so far. Every contribution tells part of your pension story.

Your RSA statement brings together important information about your pension account, including contributions credited to your account, investment activity and your current balance.

But knowing that these figures are there is only the beginning. Understanding what they mean puts you in a stronger position to stay informed about your pension journey.

Think of your RSA statement as your pension progress report. It gives you an opportunity to review your account, stay connected to your retirement savings and raise questions whenever something does not look right or requires clarification.

Your pension is being built over time. Taking a moment to understand your statement is one simple way to take greater ownership of that journey.

Reflection

Your next smart move- Make checking your pension information part of your financial routine. Check your RSA. Read the numbers. Understand your progress.

Financial wellness is an important part of overall wellbeing.

Financial wellbeing begins with awareness, followed by intentional action.

Financial concerns can affect everyday decisions, relationships and peace of mind. Building healthier financial habits can therefore contribute to a more stable and intentional life.

Start with visibility.

Know what comes in. Know what goes out. Understand your regular commitments. Create room for saving. Plan for emergencies. Review your longer-term financial priorities.

And importantly, do not overlook retirement planning. Your pension is part of your long-term financial picture.

The Financial Wellness Check-In - Ask yourself:

- Do I know where my money goes each month?*
- Do I have clear financial priorities?*
- Am I building savings?*
- Am I prepared for unexpected expenses?*
- Am I paying attention to my retirement savings?*

You do not have to solve every financial question in one day. Start with understanding where you stand.

DID YOU KNOW- Your Pension Is Part of Your Wealth?

More than just a statutory contribution, your pension is an important component of your long-term financial resources and deserves the same attention you give to your other financial affairs.

BREAKING NEWS

Pension news and updates

FG Commences Payment of Additional Exit Benefits to Retirees, N1.1bn Disbursed to First 175 Beneficiaries:

The Federal Government has begun paying Additional Exit Benefits (AEB) to retirees of treasury-funded Ministries, Departments and Agencies, with about N1.1 billion already disbursed to 175 retirees who exited the Federal Public Service between January and August 2026. The National Pension Commission said the scheme, approved by the Federal Executive Council and effective from January 1, 2026, gives federal civil servants who served at least 10 years an additional benefit equal to 100 per cent of their total annual emolument.

PenCom: Pension Industry Commits N241bn to Infrastructure Development

(THE SUN): The National Pension Commission (PenCom) has disclosed that pension operators have committed N241 billion to infrastructure investment through the Pension Industry Infrastructure Consortium, a vehicle set up in partnership with FSD Africa, and expects the figure to approach N300 billion once outstanding pledges are received. PenCom Director General Omolola Oloworaran, who also chairs the Pension Industry Leadership Council, told journalists in Lagos that no funds have been invested yet, as the initiative is still at the mobilisation and structuring stage.
